Fifty Spasms a Day.

Had Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vistula Ind., lived two thousand years ago she would have been thought to be possessed by evil spirits. She was subject to nervous prostration, headaches, dizziness, backache, palpitation and forty to fifty spasms a day. Though having been treated by eight physicians for years without success, she was permanently cured by one bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. A trial bottle of this new and wonderful medicine and a finely illustrated treatise free at J. W. Gayle's drug store, who recommends and guarantees it.

Blasphemy.

Editor Roundabout.
"What is the use of cursing in common conversation?" This question was recently asked by a father, whose son was swearing outrageously in his presence. The question was a very pertinent one, but would it not have been better if the father had asked what necessity there is for swearing in either "common" or "uncommon" conversation? Has blasphemy become fashionable? It would seem so from the number of persons who engage in this disgusting and highly elevating practice. A lady or child cannot pass along the street without having their ears assailed with language calculated to bring the blush of indignation to the cheek. All classes, ages, nations and tribes vie with one another as to which can utter the most profane in this entertaining accomplishment. A lady traveling in another State, not long since, stated that the air was freighted with the fearful oaths of a United States Senator, who occupied the adjoining seat in the car. He seemed to think that terrible maledictions and anathemas were absolutely necessary in order to make himself understood. Indeed it appears that the English language cannot be made clear or emphatic without being mixed with profanity, and from the present rate of progression it will not be many years before for every other word will be a "cuss" word.

T. B. FORD.

Harsh, But—?

"Ho," said a well-known statesman, "I shall never believe that woman has the proper judgment and sense to cast a ballot, or interfere in politics, while she is so weak-minded as to passively suffer, year after year, from diseases peculiar to females, when every newspaper she picks up, tells of the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Not to take advantage of this remedy is certainly an indication of mental weakness!"

There is a wholesome kernel of truth inside the rough shell of this exallant scolding. The "Favorite Prescription" is invaluable in all uterine troubles, inflammations, ulcerations, displacements, nervous disorders, prostration, exhaustion, or hysteria. For run-down, worn-out women, no more strengthening tonic or nerveine is known.

Forks of Elkhorn.

Regular services at Buck Run tomorrow; both morning and night, at 11 and 8 respectively.

Rev. F. W. Eberhardt has returned home from a visit to Louisville.

By visiting the County Teachers' Association, trustees may be enlightened as to who the live teachers are.

In an experience of 30 years as teacher, we have never yet found a single grumbler or fault-finder among the patrons who have sent regularly to school. But on the contrary those who send but little or probably not at all are the croakers.

Two gentlemen in our vicinity, while preparing for bed one night last week, killed 350 fleas and declare as many escaped as they killed. Next.

Rev. Gibson assisted pastor Clabb in the services at the Christian Church last Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. J. C. Demaree, of Henry county, visited friends in this vicinity the first of the week.

Mrs. Mary Belle Barrell and infant, of Texas, are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cox, at Stedmanville.

Some of the farmers in this section are complaining that a worm is destroying the potato vines, thus cutting the growth of the tuber. Who will give a remedy.

We are glad to announce that Mr. Church and Mr. Stedman are each very much improved since last report.

Bro. Burdin is engaged in protracted meeting at Beech Ridge, Shelby county. He reports several additions to date.

Next Saturday, July 4th, Franklin county will celebrate by holding a Teachers' Association in Gen. Scott

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 27, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Brown's grove, near the K. M. I. Shelby county has signified her willingness to be presented by the educational talent of her precincts. Now, teachers of Franklin, act well your part, come prepared to assist earnestly in this great enterprise, thus clearing your own conscience and gaining the hearty approval of your trustees and patrons. The committee of ladies, whose names appeared in a previous issue of the ROUNDABOUT, will see to it that ample provisions are made for the comfort and enjoyment of all, even the most fastidious epicure may expect to be perfectly satisfied.

The tragic death of Charles Jenkins, at Bridgeport last week, indeed casts a gloom over households where he was known. Having known him from birth by intimate association as pupil, citizen, christian and the closer ties of kinship, we feel competent to judge of his inestimable worth. In all of these walks of life he was true and firm. To the bereaved widow and little son we would say, God never makes a mistake. Therefore, rest assured he has a wise purpose in view, and that this affliction will work out for you a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.

The failure of the company contracted with to span North Elkhorn with a bridge according to specified time very much hinders every project in this section. We hope that the honorable county court will speedily have the defect remedied.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Cottage containing five rooms, situated on Cross street, South Side. Delightful location and all necessary conveniences. Apply to Mrs. Mary Brown Day, State Librarian. 32-4f.

A Romance.

She was fair—and my passion begun! She smiled—and I could not but love! But when from afar I detected catarrh. No beauty my passion could move! In despair she sought doctors in vain, 'Till she learned of "Humanity's boon," Now her breath is as sweet as the Which falls upon roses in June. To-night, as we sit in our home, And I kiss her sweet lips o'er and o'er, We bless Dr. Sage in our bliss, For the joy that he brought to our door.

There is no disease more trying to friendship than catarrh! The constant effort to clear the throat and nose, the foul breath, all the features of the disease, make it as much cause to bless Dr. Sage for his "Catarrh Remedy." The manufacturers offer to forfeit $500 for any case they cannot cure.

Churchill Scarce's Will.

The will of the late Churchill T. Scarce, formerly of this city, who died in Louisville last week, was probated in the Jefferson County Court Wednesday. According to the terms of the instrument the decedent first directs that the executor shall erect a suitable monument over the grave of his late father, S. A. To his friend and spiritual adviser, the Rev. George C. Betts, rector of Grace Church, Louisville, he leaves $1,000, to be expended in charities, in such manner and at such time as in his judgment may seem proper. When the blood is loaded with impurities, the whole system becomes disordered. This condition of things cannot last long without serious results. In such cases a powerful alterative is needed, such as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It never fails, and has no equal.

Across the Deep, to the Far West, In steamboats, cars and stage-coaches, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is carried as the most important item in the materia medica of the traveling public. It deprives vitiated, brackish water of its hurtful properties and exorable flavor, counteracts the pernicious effects upon the stomach of bad or indigestible food, remedies cramps, heartburn and wind upon the stomach. It is a defense against malarial disorders, nullifies the effects of excessive heat and damp, restores the system, cures headache, and is an incomparable cure for indigestion. The famous travel often tells most disastrously upon invalids and convalescents, occasionally to such an extent as to jeopardize life. Persons in feeble health, apprehensive of bad effects from travel, will find provided with the Bitters, be far less likely to leave their fears realized.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, JUNE 27, 1891.

Chapel at the Cemetery.

Mr. Mike Buckley, the contractor, has broken ground for the foundation of a neat new chapel at the cemetery. It is to be of stone and will occupy the site of the old house used for so many years by the Superintendent as a residence.

June Meeting.

A big June meeting will be held at Little Flock Particular Baptist Church, near Alton, Anderson county, to-day and to-morrow. Rev. P. J. Lester, member of Congress from Virginia, will conduct the meeting. A large number of people from this county will attend.

Cholera infantum has lost its terrors since the introduction of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. When that remedy is used and the treatment as directed with each bottle is followed, a cure is certain. Mr. A. W. Walter, a prominent merchant at Whitesburg, Ill., says: "It cured my baby boy of cholera infantum after several other remedies had failed. The child was so low that he seemed almost beyond the aid of human hands or reach of any medicine." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. GAYLE. 39-4t.

Struck by Lightning.

During the thunder storm Saturday morning the large elm tree which stands in the south-west corner of Mr. Hiram Berry's yard, in front of Mr. William McEwan's residence, was struck by lightning, which ran down the trunk of the tree, splitting the bark as with a large knife but doing no further damage.

Public Speaking.

Hon. S. B. Erwin, candidate of the People's Party for Governor, and Hon. M. W. Wilkins, of Kansas, addressed a large crowd at the Opera House on Wednesday evening. Prof. J. B. Secrest, the People's Party candidate for Superintendent of Public instruction, was also present and dismissed the audience with prayer.

Badly Cut.

A man by the name of Whittaker, who lives over Messrs. Aubrey & Williams' meat store, on Bridge street, was cutting wood on the Keaton farm below the city Wednesday, when in bringing his axe down it was caught by a grape vine and caused him to strike himself upon the left ankle, inflicting an ugly wound which will lay him up for some time.

Mr. Van Pelt, Editor of the Craig, Mo., Meteor, went to a drug store at Hillsdale, Iowa, and asked the physician in attendance to give him a dose of something for cholera morbus and looseness of the bowels. He says: "I felt so much better the next morning that I concluded to call on the physician and get him to fix me up the way of the medicine. I was surprised, when he handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He said he prescribed it the best he could get or prepare. I can testify to its efficiency in my case at all events." For sale by J. W. GAYLE. 39-4t.

Fourth of July Rates.

On July 3d and 4th the L. & N. will sell round trip tickets at one and one third fare, to all stations except Mammoth Cave and N. O. & St. L. Ry.—Limited to E. P. BRYAN, Agent.

He Wouldn't Have It.

At last one Kentuckian has been found who does not want an office. His name is Hon. E. H. Taylor, Jr. He writes his friends, declining to allow his name to be placed on the list of candidates for speaker of the next House of Representatives. He is about the size of a man the House ought to select. The officers always, or nearly always, are the best whom the office seeks and not those who seek the office.—Paducah News.

THOSE L. & N. PASSES.

CAPT. JOHNSON TELLS HOW HE RECEIVED TEN FREE TICKETS.

The Manner in Which the Lexington Conference was Thoroughly Exposed—Purely a Corporation Meeting.

[From the Louisville Post, June 23d.]

As to the manner of getting up the Lexington conference the Post has already published an exposure. It predicted before the meeting that the L. & N. would not only provide free transportation to all who wanted to go, but was basely engaged in trying to drum up a crowd for the meeting. After the conference the Post published the fact that Capt. I. N. Johnston, of Pleasureville, Ky., had been asked to lead a party to the conference and had been furnished with ten passes or free tickets in order that his friends might go. This was denied by both the Courier-Journal and the Times. Here are the denials and the proofs to show how much dependance can be placed upon the denials of the anti-Constitutional organs.

From the Times of June 16: The charge of if handorgan of those who are fighting for the adoption of the instrument that Col. Walter Evans furnished railroad tickets to a Pleasureville delegation to the Lexington convention is of the character of all the charges and "arguments" on this side. The L. & N. railroad officials challenge anybody to show where single passes on their road was given to anyone who went to Lexington, except in two instances, where a stenographer was, as usual, allowed the trip pass that he asked for. Col. Walter Evans, who has thought it unnecessary to make any denial of the charge that he got ten tickets and sent them to the Pleasureville delegation, says that he not only furnished no tickets, but that he doesn't know and never heard from such a man, the whole story being, so far as he is concerned, a fabrication.

From the Courier-Journal, June 17: A ridiculous story, to the effect that Col. Walter Evans furnished ten trip passes to the Lexington conference to a gentleman in Pleasureville, has been indocrisiously printed in the Evening Post. Col. Evans never furnished any passes and never heard of any such proceeding. The Post has invited Col. Evans to deny the story, but he has not as yet done so. The reason he has not done so is because the story is false and Col. Evans is too honorable a man to falsify even when in a tight place.

The following letter from Capt. I. N. Johnston, of Pleasureville, tells the whole story:

PLEASUREVILLE, Ky., June 22, 1891. W. M. Finley, Editor Post, Louisville, Ky.

Yours of 18th at hand, etc., and in reply would say that from Col. Walter Evans, individually, I have not received any other amount of tickets to be used in going to and from the Lexington conference, June 10, but that I did receive ten tickets or that purpose from Henry S. Tyler, Wm. L. Jackson, Jr., and Walter Evans, Committeemen for that occasion. I also see in the Times, June 16, that Col. Evans or his friends have denied having sent the tickets or the knowledge of this man Johnston. Now in order to set the Colonel as well as this man Johnston right before the people of Kentucky, I herewith send you copies of two communications received from Messrs. Tyler, Jackson and Evans, Committee. I think when the following letters will have been read by the voters of Kentucky all will be right so far as the Colonel and myself are concerned. Would you further that if Messrs. Tyler, Jackson and Evans have been imposed upon in these letters, that if they will on this man Johnston at Pleasureville he will take pleasure in showing them the original letters, that they may overtake and punish the impostor. As a reply to the letters I have received in regard to this ticket business I hope this will be a satisfactory answer. I. N. JOHNSTON.

THE COMMITTEE'S APPEAL. The following is the letter sent to Capt. Johnston by the committee which was endeavoring to drum up a crowd for the Lexington conference. It speaks for itself.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 2, 1891.

Dear Sir:

Those who oppose the adoption of the proposed new Constitution will have a conference at Lexington, at noon on the 10th inst. It is particularly desired that it shall be largely attended by representative citizens from every part of the State, and wholly without regard to political affiliations. The importance of intelligent action on a matter of such vital interest to our future welfare can not be exaggerated, and it is obviously necessary that there should be a thorough organization of all those who believe that the best interests of the State demand its rejection. If that result is to be accomplished, we have been appointed a committee to urge our fellow-citizens in every part of the State to see to it that strong and thoroughly representative delegations attend the conference on the 10th and assist in the work of organization for the contest.

We ask you zealously and promptly to unite with us in promoting these objects. Hoping that you and many others from your county will attend, we are very respectfully signed,

HENRY S. TYLER, WM. L. JACKSON, JR., WALTER EVANS, Committee.

FIND TICKETS ENCLOSED.

To this letter Capt. Johnson replied, more as a joke than anything else, that if ten free passes were sent him he could find ten men who would be willing to go to Lexington. He immediately received the following answer:

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 9, 1891.—I. N. Johnston.—DEAR SIR:—We have no passes, but enclose you ten tickets; if any are unused please return them. Respectfully,

H. S. TYLER, W. L. JACKSON, JR., WALTER EVANS.

This should settle all controversy and should also indicate very clearly how much dependance can be placed upon the denials of the anti-Constitutional organs.

The Henry County Local prints the following account of the transaction and gives the names of "boys" who went to see the side show: "A few days before the Lexington meeting, to oppose the new Constitution, was held, Capt. I. N. Johnston, who lives at Pleasureville, received a letter from Col. Walter Evans, of Louisville, asking him if he could not get up a crowd to attend the Lexington meeting. Mr. Johnston is a warm friend of the new Constitution and, at once suspecting the methods being used to get up a crowd determined to find out. So he wrote back that he could get a dozen fellows, if he had free tickets, and promptly by the next mail he received ten tickets to Lexington and return. He went out and drummed up ten boys, everyone of whom is in favor of the Constitution, gave them the tickets and told them to go and enjoy the convention, and we have the word of several that they did so. That no one may think we are joking about the matter, we give the names of the parties, and ask any incredulous person who may doubt of their story to refer to them for its verification. They were James P. Bryant, Henry Hall, Pleas Estes, Orgy Hancock, Will Hawkins, H. H. Hays, Prof. Elliott, W. C. Banta, Fletcher Hill and Geo. Mews, all of whom live at Pleasureville, and will doubtless take pleasure in answering any question about the convention. The question naturally arises who wanted those men to attend the convention badly enough to pay their expenses? Was it some patriotic citizen who has the good of the State at heart, or was it some corporation, that is afraid of losing the special privileges which it has enjoyed so long and on which it has grown rich and powerful? Henry county hasn't a citizen who can't answer that question for himself, or who doesn't know that the corporations would not be so anxious to defeat the Constitution, if it did imitate in their favor as the Courier-Journal would have them believe. The simple truth is that it places them on equality with other people and under the same law, and that they will move heaven and earth to defeat it rather than give up the old Constitution, which secures them in the enjoyment of their special privileges and exemption from taxation.
